FIREMEN'S BALL WELL ATTENDED

As the first big social affair after Lent the Firemen's ball on Monday night was well attended. The crowd, which filled the Woman's club house, was delightfully entertained. The Hawaiian orchestra not only furnished splendid music for dancing but their singing added a pleasing touch. A surprise novelty was furnished in the dancing of little Barbara Mayhew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Mayhew. Little Miss Mayhew, in appropriate costume, gave some Hawaiian dances which were the work of a real artist. The affair was attended not only by club members and Sierra Madre people, but by delegations from Pasadena and Monrovia.

BIG NEW OVEN FOR THE BAKERY

McElroy Brothers have just completed and put into operation a huge new brick oven in the rear of their store at 10 W. Central. For several months they have been using D. J. Millard's oven on Windsor lane, but found too much of a handicap in having the bakeshop so far from their store.

The new oven brings all the bakery equipment together which will save much time and work for the members of this enterprising firm. It will also enable them to serve their customers better by having hot bread, rolls and other things on sale at an earlier hour.

EASTER MUSIC TO BE REPEATED

On next Sunday the services at the Church of the Ascension will be as usual and the Easter music will be repeated at all the services. Dean Shaw will continue his evening addresses on "Contrasts" speaking on how Easter Day is observed and it should be. Everyone invited.

Several members of the Sierra Madre Firemen's club with their wives attended the annual Firemen's ball in Pasadena Tuesday night, reciprocating the courtesy of the Pasadena firemen, who attended the club dance in Sierra Madre Saturday night.

A card party will be held in the Parish house during the afternoon and evening of Friday, April 13. The affair is under the auspices of the Guild of St. Catherine. Admission 50 cents.

CAMPERS NEGLECT RULES OF FOREST

Negligence in Disposal of Refuse Closes Beau.y Spots to Autoists

Tin cans, paper bags, cracker crumbs and soiled paper napkins are responsible for some bad news which affects every auto owner in the western part of the United States but particularly in the southern counties of California, according to officials of the Automobile Club of Southern Caliiornia.

This indicates that strenuous measures are going to be taken by the government in forest reserve canyons to preserve the beauty of nature unadorned by festoons of sardine tins, orange peels and cast-off papers. Motorists who take their lunches in the canyons of Southern California and then throw what remains to the four winds thus cluttering up the face of nature are going to be responsible, says the auto club, for the restriction on camping in many places unless they are careful from now on. With the closing of Palm Canyon, which is one of the most beautiful spots in the West, an important step has been taken toward the preservation of the natural wonders in this part of America.

Reports are being received from many other places that early spring auto camping parties are hard at work making rubbish dumps out of scenic spots. Please pick up all evidence of your lunches and put out your little camp fires, ask the officials of the department of the interior as well as the auto club. It is just as easy to be clean and neat as not and the authorities suggest that if you throw the sardine cans, olive seeds and orange peels under the table at home at least don't do it when you are out in the natural dining rooms of California canyons. A strenuous "clean-up" campaign is to be waged throughout this part of the country during the spring and summer.

CEMENT SIDEWALK FASHION SPREADS

Almost a whole block of cement sidewalks have been added to the Baldwin avenue frontage recently. The improvements installed this time cover most of the block on the west side of Baldwin from Laurel to Grand View, the work being done by A. E. Adams.

Other Baldwin avenue property owners who wish to have the work done by private contract will do well to hurry. It is only a question of a short time until the city will order the whole of Baldwin avenue sidewalked under the 10-year bond act. The proceedings can be carried through in a way against which no protest would avail, although it seems entirely unlikely that any protest would be presented.

SPLENDID CORNER CHANGES HANDS

Another fine piece of Central avenue frontage changed hands this week when N. W. Tarr purchased from Mrs. Chloe B. Jones the lot at the southeast corner of Central and Hermosa. The lot has a frontage of 99 feet on Central and 290 feet on Hermosa, this side facing the new city park. It is understood the consideration was in the neighborhood of $100 a front foot. At the rate of advance in the price of Central avenue property, it is evident the business district is expected to expand considerably beyond the present west limits of the business section.

HOTEL BUILDING RISES RAPIDLY

Outside brick walls for the lower story of the new hotel building are practically completed. Some of the partition studding is in place, with a portion of the flooring laid for the second story. The brick masons are already laying the upper walls.

Upper story windows of the hotel building will command wonderful views of the mountains and of the valley. The elevation is sufficient to clear the surrounding buildings in both directions.

BRICE ACADEMY OPENS ITS DOORS

Elementary and Secondary School School Work To Be Carried on in New Home

Brice Academy began regular work this week in Sierra Madre, having moved into the recently purchased Blumer property during the Easter vacation. Dr. John Brice, the principal, had previously conducted a school in Monrovia but chose Sierra Madre for a permanent location because of the beautiful site and other advantages offered.

At present Brice Academy has about twenty pupils, ranging in age from seven to twenty. Pupils are instructed from elementary grades through the college preparatory period. Classical in its background, the curriculum is broad, well balanced and specially adapted to the needs of each individual. Emphasis is laid on sound character development.

Combined with the scholastic thought of Brice Academy is the sense of home, the manifestation of which both the parents and students feel is not only beautiful but vital. The meeting of this need has brought many expressions of appreciation to Dr. Brice and to Mrs. Edith A. Brice, who is dean of the school.

The Blumer place is a splendid location for such a school as Brice Academy. It is accessible from Auburn and Grand View avenues. The large house is roomy and the spacious porches are inviting. Surrounding the house are splendid trees, with many other desirable features such as room for athletics and drill grounds, swimming pool and an open air theater.

Most of the students will be regular boarding pupils, but day pupils will be accepted.

CLUB AND C. OF C. JOIN FOR LUNCH

Interesting Program Offered For Those Attending Mon.hly Event on Monday

"State Highways" will be the subject of the address of Prescott F. Cogswell, county supervisor, at the joint luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce and Woman's Club on Monday, April 9.

The ladies of the club have invited the Chamber of Commerce to join with them in their monthly luncheons until the close of the season. The board of directors accepted the invitation and urges the members of the Chamber of Commerce to take advantage of this move of the ladies to bring the residents of Sierra Madre together around the table and become better acquainted personally and with the interests of our citizens.

To accommodate the business men, the ladies of the club have set the hour of their luncheon ahead thirty minutes and the luncheon will start promptly at noon. This will enable the men to hear the speaker at the luncheon before it will be necessary for them to leave. The Chamber of Commerce guests are invited to stay for the full program of the afternoon and their presence is desired. However, the ladies wish them to feel free to leave at any time. In the afternon T. W. Sloan of the government forestry service will speak on "Reforestation."

Those desiring to attend the luncheon are reminded that it is necessary to secure their luncheon tickets before noon, Saturday, April 7. These may be obtained at the Sierra Madre Electric company.

H. J. SCHMITT SELLS LOCAL INTEREST

Messrs. Bergien and Cabot of the firm of Bergien, Cabot & Schmitt have purchased the interests of Henry J. Schmitt in the undertaking business. They will conduct the business in the funeral parlors at 304 W. Central. Mr. Schmitt returns to Pasadena, where he will reside and go into business.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldstein of New York arrived in Sierra Madre Monday and ae visiting their son, Harry Goldstein of 65 W. Montecito Ave.

DR. TATE ACCEPTS CALL OF CHURCH

Congregational Church Secures Services of Exceptional Man for Pastor

News that Dr. William A. Tate has accepted the call extended by the Congregational church will be received with interest by all who have heard him preach here on recent Sundays. The members of the church feel that they have secured a man of unusual ability. While the call was for a period of six months, they are hoping that at the end of that period it may prove possible to induce Dr. Tate to remain longer. The reason for the six-months agreement was that that was the length of time he expected to remain on the coast. Having recently returned from Hawaii, he was advised by physicians not to take his family to New England as he had planned until they had spent several months in the Pacific coast climate.

Dr. Tate earned his degree of doctor of philosophy at Yale, having previously graduated from Hiram College, Ohio. He is very highly commended for his ability and character by Dean Charles R. Brown of the Yale divinity school. He did successful pastoral work in an important Connecticut parish before going to the Hawaiian islands. There he spent three years doing missionary and Americanization work and also organized a thriving church among the white people of the community where he was working.

His sermons already preached in Sierra Madre stam Dpr. Tate as a man of unusual scholastic accomplishment, as well as a thinker of excellent caliber. He will bring his family to Sier-Sierra Madre stamp Dr. Tate as a man work here at once, preaching both morning and evening next Sunday.

HOEGEE'S CAMP TO BE ENLARGED

Murphy and Swanson Join Otis Johnston in the Popular Resort Enterprise

Messrs. A. Murphy and Joseph T. Swanson have purchased an interest in Hoegee's Camp from Otis Johnston, who has operated it the past two years. These three hustlers will conduct the camp and are starting out already on a program of enlargement and improvement.

The camp is beautifully located on Winter creek, on the old Sturtevant trail and about a mile from Roberts' Camp in the bottom of Santa Anita canyon. The setting is in one of the finest groves in the mountains, with an unfailing stream babbling down through the camp site. Mr. Johnston has constructed a trail from the camp to Manzanita ridge, where it joins the old Mt. Wilson trail only a short distance from the Mt. Wilson Toll road. This gives another route to the camp, making it convenient to include in a circuit hike, up one trail and down another. Mrs. Murphy's musical talent will add much to the pleasure of camp life. It is planned to have dance music available at all times, with an orchestra for week-ends.

SCHOOL EXERCISES BEING PLANNED

The rumor has been brought to the attention of the board of school trustees that no May Day exercises would be held this year. In order that the rumor may not prevail, the board wishes to make the public announcement that there has never been any thought in the mind of the board that the usual exercises would not take place.

On the contrary, for several weeks, the board has been consulting with the principal of the school for the very purpose and has been glad to give any service and assistance in its power. At a previous meeting, the decision was reached to hold these exercises on Friday, May 4th and to devote the entire day to that purpose for the children.

FREE OUTING AT TRAINING CAMPS

Government Pays All Expenses At Summer Civilian Course In the North

An outing at government expense is practically provided undler the terms of the National Defense Act. The War Department will hold its annual Citizen's Military Training Camps during the month of July 26th-August 24th, this year.

At these camps a limited number of young men of high type from all sections of the country will receive educational, physical and military training under the eyes of experienced officers and non-commissioned officers of the regular army. Every effort will be made by the camp personnel to make the stay of the students both pleasant and profitable and to send them home better qualified both mentally and physically to meet the responsibilities of citizenship.

Each camp will have a surgeon, a chaplain, a morale and recreation officer and an athletic officer, whose duties will be to look after the health and moral surroundings of the students. An army band and athletic competitions and musical entertainments b thye men attending the camps will be features of these encampments. Opportunities will be afforded for all to attend religious services of their own particular creed.

A certificate as to moral caracter, given by schoolmaster, clergyman, priest, rabbi, officer, retired or ex-officer of the army, navy, marine corps or marine corps, or any prominent and reputable citizen shall be required of each applicant as well as the usual physical examination.

Four courses of instruction will be given known as the Basic Red, Advanced Red, White and Blue courses. The first three carry no obligation of further military service and the last none if the party has attended prior camps in 1921 or 1922.

The camps for California young men will be at the Presidio of Monterey for infantry, cavalry, field artillery, engineers and signal corps, and at Ft. Winfield Scott near the presidio of San Francisco for the coast artillery. The limiting quota for Los Angeles county is 232 students and young men will be accepted in the order of their application up to this number. Should any county not fill its quota its vacancies will be allotted to those counties having an excess of applicants. The government pays traveling expenses to and from the camps and all the expenses at the camp with few exceptions.

Further detailed information as to these camps may be obtained from Major C. S. Floyd, U. S. A., Retired, at the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

SMOKER AND CONCERT PLAN

The men of the parish of the Church of the Ascension are arranging for a smoker and concert on Saturday evening, April 21. This will be the initial meeting of the Men's club of the parish and it is believed that it is but the beginning of what will in time grow into a very interesting organization.

About one hundred invitations have been issued to the men of the parish and their friends. There will be no speaking during the evening as the program will consist of literary and musical things together with the opportunity of playing whist, five hundred and chess, or any other game proposed. At the close of the evening refreshments will be served under the entire charge of the men.

Close Contest Develops Over School Trustee

George S. Anderson was re-elected school trustee for a three-year term at a hotly contested election last Friday. He received 122 votes, to 112 recorded for H. C. Parker.

Two ballots were thrown out because of distinguishing marks, one being intended for each candidate. Twenty-four ballots had names variously written in, practically all for Parker but with varying initials or no initials at all.

The petition nominating Mr. Anderson was the only one filed and his name was the only one printed on the ballot. It was therefore necessary to write in the name of any other candidate, and therein occurred the errors in the name.

Because of there being only one candidate nominated, many voters were apathetic and stayed away from the polls until it was reported about town that a real contest was on. Soon the telephones and autos were busy and voters on both sides were hurried to the polls. Toward the closing hour there was a long line of voters awaiting a chance to vote, and excitement became quite warm.

Because of the close result and the apparent confusion of names there was talk of a recount of the ballots, both at the polling place and since election day.

Some of the Parker adherents seemed to think that all ballots marked "Parker" should be counted for H. C. Parker, the intent of the voter being apparent. The opposite counsel prevailed, and the variously entered names were registered as written. It was pointed out that if the intent of the voter was to be considered as against what he had actually written, it was easy to account for confusion in the mind of one who wrote "H. C. Fisher," and credit that ballot to H. C. Parker also. The count was made in accordance with the usual election board practice.

ANNUAL MASONIC BALL APRIL 14

Invitations have been issued for the annual ball under the auspices of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M. This affair has come to be recognized as one of the outstanding social events of the year in Sierra Madre and is looked forward to with keen pleasure by those who have attended them in the past.

The following have been designated as patrons and patronesses for the ball: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawless, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mackerras, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Welsher, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Yerxa, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Twycross, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Walker, Mr and Mrs. H. E. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hull.

The committee in charge of the affair this year consists of Raymond D. Andrews, D. C. Ashmore, H. H. McMillan, S. C. Pasco, F. A. Spencer, J. N. Hawks, Guy Steinberger and E. K. Stinchcomb. They have enlisted the aid of Frank Monroe Smith for decorations, which ensures a bower of beauty in the Woman's Club house. A splendid Los Angeles orchestra has been engaged which promises music out of the ordinary for quality.

NEW MACHINE SHOP

George H. Cox has sensed the need of an all around tinker shop for Sierra Madre, something which has been missing for some time. He has accordingly installed grinding and lathe equipment in a shop in the rear of his residence at 70 East Montecito. He plans to call for and deliver work, and making a special price on grinding cutlery for regular customers who will be furnished with cards to be punched like a meal ticket for each piece ground. He calls his shop the "3-in-1" because "We get it, fix it and bring it back."

"If you think it, it's so," may be logic but the older generation thinking the youngsters are going to the dogs don't seem to have much effect on either the morals or morale of young America.

The Colorado legislature recently criticised its chaplain for saying the country was in a terrible state of turmoil. The Colorado legislature evidently succeeded itself.

The modern fight for theatrical fame seems to be more of a battle between press agents than between artists.

Oh, Easter Bonnets, chic and neat
(We think this line quite clever)
Beneath you, faces sour or sweet
Are much more so than ever.
—Whit Greenleaf.

We learned, while still quite young, that there is nothing certain in this world, except death and taxes. And now occasionally we find someone who doubts the certainty of death.

Not always but often the man who is not in favor of paid advertising is one of the first to bring his name and business before the public in a favorable light, which leads us to believe that it is not so much the advertising he is against as the pay.

The reason why people wish to live in California seems to be more of a mystery to some of the residents of the Golden State than to the visitors. It takes time to learn of all the advantages that California holds for the homeseeker and the longer one has lived here the more firmly should be his conviction that the State is destined to become one of the greatest residential, cultural, industrial and commercial areas the world has ever seen.

Men who think they have troubles with their cars should have a linotype on their hands for a while.

We have been wondering whether the men were more pleased with the Easter rain because it was good for the crops or because it worried the women folks.

If you want to win the heart of young America a fine way to begin is by telling him that his school days will be the happiest days of his life. If they believed this there would probably be more suicides among children on record.

Literary people talk of poetic license but it seems that a fine would be much better than a license where most poetry is concerned.

We have conducted this column for more than two months without getting off anything funny or otherwise about prohibition. It isn't because we are behind the times but we just can't see anything very funny about prohibition.

COMPACT RADIO SETS POPULAR

Jim Farman of the Sierra Madre Electric company is so enthusiastic over a couple of new radio outfits he has had in stock this week that he doesn't know which to boost the hardest. One of them is the latest development of the DeForest company and requires no outside antennae. The waves are received by means of a small loop aerial about two feet square. This makes the whole equipment readily portable. In addition the set has remarkable clarity of tone and has picked up Portland and Kansas City.

The other set is the Radiola masterpiece, which requires the outside antennae but is otherwise self contained. It requires no storage battery and the loud speaker is built in, so that the whole occupies only a small cabinet which is a beautiful piece of furniture. The only thing that takes the joy out of life for Mr. Farman is his inability to get these sets as fast as they are ordered.

Women Compared With Clocks.

Women are like clocks. Some of them are fairly reliable with but little attention, while others need almost constant care, and it is not always the high-priced, jeweled ones that are most dependable. They may have pretty hands, pretty faces and pretty movements, but they are liable to get out of order, and when they do they are all very hard to regulate.—Oregon Lemon Punch.

Cat's Advantages.

A cat is unable to see in perfect darkness, but gets about more easily than other animals on account of its whiskers or feelers, and its surefootedness.

When I'se all dolled up in my Easter clo'se
With fancy fixin's 'n ribbons and bows,
Jest ready to start to meeting,
Missus asked me to fix the eggs for eatin'.
I spilt one egg on that new dress,
I sure didn't allow that to cause me distress—
I jest sends it to Monrovia to clean and press.

As Good as Your Word.

Be careful to keep your promises to children, whether they be to reward or punish. A child soon learns whether a parent means to do what is promised. Exercise patience with a child. If you cannot do this, how can you expect the child to learn patience and obedience?

Fish Affected by Cold.

Congers and pilchards have died from cold off the Cornish coast, and the once plentiful boarfish have never been seen in the shallow waters of Cornwall since a violent easterly gale blew in 1879.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN YOUR SCHOOLS?

Whether by accident or design, the Sierra Madre schools seem likely to suffer by reason of some unusually acriminious discussion and agitation which is going the rounds just now.

Animosities aroused over totally irrelevant matters have obtruded themselves into school affairs. The usual crop of rumors, changing as they flit from lip to lip, adds to the turmoil.

Sincere friends of the public schools sometimes unwittingly work to the detriment of the schools by being a party to what really are only petty squabbles. Enemies of the public schools do not often work openly. It is unpopular. But they can smile secretly and add their bit willingly to dissension and disturbance which accomplishes their fondest purpose, that of breaking down respect for the school system.

This is not a defense of the school trustees, individually or collectively, or any policy of theirs. They may or may not need defense. That is immaterial in this discussion.

The essential thing is that public and private discussions of school affairs be sane and good humored, and based on facts. If known facts appear to reveal undesirable situations, go to headquarters and talk it over with someone familiar with the facts. See if a remedy cannot be found in a friendly, orderly way, instead of starting a lot of wild talk that gets nowhere, benefits no one, damages the schools and tends to disrupt the community.

OUR DUTIES

That I shall be healthy
That I shall be happy
That I shall be strong

The happy person is the only one that is a perpetual source of happiness to others.

The first o allf moral duties to my neighbor is cheer. Cheer is the lamp of the soul, and if that lamp be dark how great is that darkness.

The third duty is to be strong. Pride in weakness, and especially pride in advertising weakness is a monstrous perversion. If we are weak in body or knowledge, we do not need to be weak in character, in courage, or in faith.

Consider the Creator. He has been called our Father, and it is his best name. He does for us, He makes every natural function of the body to be joyous, He supplies us with food for our sustenance, with beauty for our inspiration, with friends for our companionship.

Let us be thankful and grateful for little things, and the larger blessings will follow. Notice, too, we have our pains and disappointments when we do wrong, and are presented with remorse.

We are given doubts and perplexities, tragedy and bereavement. Considering these desirable gifts, we fly to pessimism, rebellion and infidelity. Those who are capable of thinking however, realize the very finest qualities of life, are developed only from our buffeting and crosses.

What sweeter, richer, and more enduring traits can we have than patience, courage, self-control, loyalty and faith?

Look at these things .

It is precisely because the Diety is not stepped on that we can become great souls.

Much Pine Marketed.

Of native trees, the white pine is one of the most valuable, says the American Tree association. It is a tall, straight tree that grows to a height of 100 to 150 feet. It made fine lumber and was one of the first to be exhausted.

Famous Bells.

The curfew bell, the Angelus bell and the passing bell are part of bell practice and tradition. The ringing of bells ushered in the French revolution. The great bell of St. Marks, Venice, and others, equally famous, were alarums.

Primitive Origin.

Being asked by his teacher if he could name some commercial appliance used in ancient times, a youngster replied: "Yes, sir, the loose-leaf system used in the Garden of Eden."—Boston Evening Transcript.

NEW BOYS' SCHOOL IN PASADENA GLEN

Recent announcements of the establishment of private schools include that of the new Pasadena Glen school for boys. This will rovide facilities for a boarding school with limited enrollment for boys from twelve to twenty years of age. It will be non-military and non-sectarian.

The administrative head will be Dr. Ralph L. Power of the University of Southern California, and the director of the advisory committee will be Dr. Luther Flavel, former president of Trinity college in Hartford.

The medical staff includes Doctors Frank W. McKee and Frank B. Foster. The Reverend Earle Vandergriff of Pasadena will act as chaplain. Oliver J. Marston of Los Angeles, is the legal counsel. The summer camp opens late in June and the winter term in September.

A special feature of the Glen school will be the work in educational and vocational guidance under the direction of Dr. Martin Stormzand. Because of the limited enrollment much of the instruction will be along tutorial lines. A major portion of instruction, however, will be in small classes to provide the friendly competition so necessary in the education process.

If you have anything to sell, rent or trade, put a wantad in the Sierra Madre News.

OBSERVATORY HAS VARIED PROBLEMS

Mt. Wilson Scientists Hold Close Attention of Scientific World

The annual report of Mt. Wilson Observatory, Pasadena, Cal., is always an interesting publication, writes Edward Skinner King in the Christian Science Monitor. The summary of the work of the last year is, more than ever, a record of exceptional progress, and testifies to the remarkable vigor and productive energy of the whole staff of workers.

So many lines of astronomical and astrophysical research are in operation with noteworthy results, that a mere enumeration constitutes an extensive catalogue. Moreover, it is difficult to single out those investigations most important in advancing our knowledge of the celestial universe. Various achievements of the Mt. Wilson Observatory have been noted in this column from time to time. Last year the great work of Dr. Adams and his associates was mentioned, in which the distances of 2000 stars had been determined by means of their spectra. The spectrum, that little band of rainbow color shown by the star when the light passes through a prism, was photographed, and a comparison of the relative intensities in different parts of the band told the story. At the time of that writing, they had been able to apply the method only to yellow or reddish stars. Now, Adams and Joy have found a way of doing the same with white stars. Spectra of 544 white stars, already photographed with the 60-inch and the 100-inch telescopes, thus become immediately available to swell the number of stars of known distance.

The densities, effective temperatures surface brightness, and volumes both of giant and dwarf stars have been studied by Mr. Seares. He finds that certain "dwarf" stars are much hotter than "giants" of the same type, and 500,000 times as dense. The surface brightness varies from one-hundredth to 10 times that of our sun. These figures support several important theories related to such stars. Studies by Stromberg of the space-velocities of 332 stars have led to establishing the identity of the star streams in white stars with the groups in Taurus and Ursa Major. It is also found that among the yellow and red stars the "giants" and the "dwarfs" form distinct groups as to their motions. Mr. Hubble's investigations of stars involved in luminous nebulosity show that the extent of nebulosity is proportioned to the light of the star, and that the light radiated by the nebulosity is equal to that received from the star. It is thought that the light is not returned by reflection, but by absorption and a re-emission in some mysterious way which may lead to results of great importance.

Professor Russell's investigations of dark nebulae, the measures of Mr. Van Maanen of the rotational motions of spiral nebulae, confirmatory of his previous results, the interferometer measures of star diameters, soon to be advanced by the contruction of a new and specially designed instrument, all these are features of the year's progress. The total radiation of stars has been measured by special thermo-couples used with the microphotometer. Dr. Abbot has made the first successful bolometric observation of the distribution of the energy in stellar spectra. It will be possible with his sensitive instrument to extend such measures to stars of the third and fourth magnitude.

The experiments made by Professor Michelson on the velocity of light over a distance of 20 miles, and also in relation to the theory of relativity can be only alluded to here. Nor can we do more than mention Professor Miller's investigations, which indicate only a slight possible effect of the ether drift on a ray of light. Sun and sunspots have been under close observation. "Invisible" sunspots are being detected by polarizing apparatus specially adapted for discovery of small magnetic fields in promising areas of flocculi. The results confirm the previous view that a spot is a vortex, which becomes visible as it cools.

20,000 Degrees Centigrade

Active work has been carried on in the laboratories. Furnaces are used which permit temperatures as high as 2000 degrees centigrade to be used in the study of various elements. Anderson's method of sending a mighty electric charge through wires of different substances develops an energy corresponding to a temperature of 20,000 degrees centigrade. The result is a veritable explosion, and quite remarkably the product, a layer of vapor less than two inches thick, is completely opaque to radiation. Considerable importance as to solar and stellar physics is attached to this phenomenon.

The variety and extent of the work, the development and use of new instruments and apparatus, with the energetic and devoted application of the staff, make a most creditable showing.

the BEST OIL made is refined from WESTERN CRUDE

The motorist who pays fancy prices for oil, often pays for something he does not get.

Zerolene costs less because it is produced in California from selected California naphthenic crude, which, of all the crudes so far discovered, yields the most efficient lubricating oils.

Zerolene lubricates better. It forms from 25% to 50% less carbon. It has greater adhesiveness and penetration than oils made from any other crude.

Overcrowded.

Billy's nose was out of joint, all on account of the arrival of little sister. He took his overcoat and hat to the nurse and asked her to put them on him, as he was going away. She asked him if he hadn't better wait and see his father. He replied: "I'm going to my father; Uncle Frank is going to be my father now. This house is getting too crowded."

Boys Like the Beech.

The beech has many qualities which commend it for highway planting. It is a tree of rugged growth, with dense foliage of surpassing beauty, and lends genuine charm to the roadside landscape, says "Trees as Good Citizens," a book that goes into all kinds of tree planting in plain language. Its one drawback, a minor one, is that its smooth white bark is a perennial invitation to the carving of initials.

GUILTY OR NOT GUILTY—WHICH?

Here is a clever burlesque that is going the rounds. We do not know from whence it comes nor whither it goeth, but it contains much food for thought, and those without guilt are admonished to cast the first stone:

"A dry goods merchant was starting down town when his wife reminded him of his most important duty during the day. 'Now my dear, be sure and send to the city for that new radio outfit, so we can have it for Sunday. You know our old victrola is getting so it is not fit to be heard.'

Just a few blocks away the merchant who handles victrolas and furniture was sitting at breakfast with his family. The conversation drifted around to the near approach of school, 'And that reminds me, John,' said the lady who sat at the head of the table, 'I must be going to the city not later than next week. I must get school clothes and see about a fall suit for myself, and while there perhaps I had better see about new lace curtains for the front windows.'

"An hour or two later a leading grocer stepped into the bank to buy a draft which he was going to send to a catologue house for a swell bedroom suite. 'How's business,' asked the banker. 'Oh, not so very good,' replied the grocer; 'things are dull just now.'

"Before the banker finished writing the draft a dapper young man with a grip stepped up and asked how everything was. The banker seemed glad to see him. He was a representative of a big printing establishment in another state. He and the banker chatted pleasantly for a few minutes, after which the young man inquired casually of his friend behind the window if he wanted anything. 'Well, yes,' replied the banker. 'I believe I do. Print us 5,000 drafts, 5,000 checks and a couple of thousand letter heads.'

The young man thanked his friend cordially and hustled out.

"That night the local business men had a meeting at the town hall to discuss the growth of the mail order evil. All the gentlemen mentioned in the narrative delivered short talks. They agreed that the farmers were guilty of treason to their home merchants when they persisted in buying their goods from mail order houses, and the meeting closed by adopting strong resolutions against trading away from home."

We are wondering how many of "we" and not "they" business men of Sierra Madre are guilty of this thing—how many are practicing what "we" have been preaching? The merchant who does not patronize home industry has no right to urge people to patronize home town merchants. What is sauce for the goose is likewise sauce for the gander.

The Falling Star.

A star fell, leaving a trailing line of light in its wake, and suddenly i felt a little sad, for a Siwash Indian chief had told us that when a star fell it was a flower tossed by the hand of a good spirit from Paradise to ease the pain of a soul passing out into the Great Darkness.—"The Wild Heart," by Emma Lindsay Squier.

Our idea about misplaced philanthropy was best shown by the man who placed a radio loud speaker on the top of his house for the benefit of his neighbors.

One advantage of the futurist art is that one can feel sure that he has not missed any of the finer shadings that some of his more intellectual friends might expect him to see.
